

BETTER IDEAS FOR CHILD SUPPORT

PHILLIPA Goodwin, what a joke. I am thankfully off that joke of a system you administer called the CSA, after years and years of pain.

At what point do you ever look after the children? you have no idea what the receiving parent is using the money for!

Here is an idea to ensure everyone gets their money and the paying parent doesn't go under with debt.

1. Calculate the amount of child support from the base wage of the paying parent, allowing them to earn overtime etc, so they can live.

2. Take circumstances on their merits, i.e., a person whose partner has left with the children, through no fault of theirs, pays less than someone who walks out with no reasons given.

Phillipa, you work in an agency that investigates itself after decisions are made. If this was to occur in my line of work the general public would be outraged.
